CREW PROFILE

ANDRIJA ERCEGOVIĆ - CAPTAIN

Captain Andrija was born in 1991. in Split into a family with a 30-year long tradition of maritime enterprise. He spent most of his childhood helping his father and brothers on different ships owned by their family so he knew very early where he sees himself in the future, happy at sea.

Graduated from the secondary Maritime high school in Split as a nautical officer of the deck but with his eagerness to run a ship on his own, he was slowly upgraded to a Captain, with more than 8 years of experience so far.

Andrija is a very athletic person; in his free time his passions are spearfishing and free climbing. He used to play a guitar very well but he gave that hobby up in order to pursue new interests. His crew speaks very highly of him as he runs his ship professionally and diligently.

Overall, Andrija is very warm and easy-going person, which you can see for yourself if you decide to book M/S "Dalmatino" for an extraordinary Croatian cruising experience.

Anton is a natural-born seafarer, born in Split 1995!

He has been honing his maritime skills since graduating from Maritime High School and continuing with further study at the faculty. Since 2014, working on motor yachts and sailboats, he has become an expert deckhand, engineer, and captain, showing dedication to every role that comes his way.

With his fluent knowledge of English and German, Anton will be a valuable asset to the Dalmatino yachting team!

When the temperature drops and yachts head into winter berth, he's working in the shipyard. But when his shift is over, this seafaring enthusiast loves spending time on those same waters fishing or sailing and visiting new places.

ZVONIMIR NOVOKMET- DECKHAND

Zvonimir Novokmet was born in 1995 in the charming city of Oakville, Canada.

Following his studies at a secondary technical school in Split, Croatia, he decided to search for work, and in 2015 he ended up on the open seas as a waiter on a vessel. In addition to his duties as a waiter, after a year of working in the salon, Zvonimir also tried his hand as an assistant cook.

After successfully mastering these waters over the years ago, Zvonimir achieved another milestone and became a deckhand.

On his days off, he loves socializing with friends and having a few laughs over board games. An avid film fan, he also enjoys watching quality movies in his leisure time. On the sports side of things, you'll find him following football! And when it comes to foreign languages - English is one of his strong points.

Ante Ercegović was born in the beautiful city of Split, Croatia, on 17/12/1999. After completing his elementary and secondary school education there, he yearned to continue learning but found himself torn between studying medicine or pursuing a lifelong passion for sailing at sea.

In the end, that love for life by the sea won out - Ante chose to major in Nautical studies from then onwards!

During the summer months of the last six years, with his mastery of English, Ante spends his days enjoying life at sea, working as a deckhand. When winters arrive, and he returns home shore side, it's a new world of activities that transpire; engaging in pub quizzes, playing goalkeeper in futsal games with friends, and then winding down by reading books.
