

A close-up photograph of a gourmet dish. The main component is a seared squid, with its tentacles and body pieces arranged artistically. The squid has a dark, charred exterior and a lighter, tender interior. It is garnished with a few small, vibrant green microgreens. A single green olive is placed near the bottom right of the squid. A golden-brown, crispy potato chip is positioned at the top of the dish. The entire meal is served on a plain white plate, which provides a clean background for the colorful ingredients.
